Bible reading

Luke 10 v1-9- Revised Standard Version (NRSV)

After this the Lord appointed seventy others and sent them on ahead of him in pairs to every town and place where he himself intended to go. He said to them, “The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few; therefore ask the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into his harvest. Go on your way. See, I am sending you out like lambs into the midst of wolves. Carry no purse, no bag, no sandals; and greet no one on the road. Whatever house you enter, first say, ‘Peace to this house!’ And if anyone is there who shares in peace, your peace will rest on that person; but if not, it will return to you. Remain in the same house, eating and drinking whatever they provide, for the labourer deserves to be paid. Do not move about from house to house. Whenever you enter a town and its people welcome you, eat what is set before you; cure the sick who are there, and say to them, ‘The kingdom of God has come near to you.’”

Prayers

1

Intercessions for Trinity 19 (2020)

King of love, just as you sent out the 72 into their surrounding area with instructions to tell people that the kingdom of heaven is near, we pray especially today for those of our time who feel that special call from you to do the same. We ask you to anoint them with courage and boldness in the face of opposition, clarity of heart and mind when delivering the Gospel of Christ, and compassion and love for all who take the time to listen, whether they accept the message or not. Remind us as well that we have a part to play, however small, in the spreading of the Good News of Jesus; and may your Holy Spirit equip us, too, with all the qualities we need to live daily to glorify you and speak at every opportunity about you.

Prayers

King of love, we bring before you the nations of the world, each one battling with the devastating effects that Covid 19 has had on the health of the people and the economy of the countries. The unknown quality of this disease has caused fear and panic among many. The efforts to stem the spread of it has caused isolation and pain. Many governments, including our own, have faced fierce criticism of their methods for handling the pandemic.

We ask you to bring a unity among those in power; that they will work together to bring an end to this blight in our lives. May we, as Christians, be especially responsible in our behaviour but still radiate our sense of security in you, the living God. May our witness to Christ through this time bring peace and calm to others who are so frightened.

King of love, you provide for all that we need to sustain our lives. Give us faith to place all that we have, including our money, completely at your service. Your word tells us that you love a cheerful giver and that we are not to worry and so we ask that we will hold all our possessions and finances with open hands, making it readily available to you should you call.

Give us wisdom to know who is genuinely in need of our help, whatever that looks like, and may we be generous in all things, following the example of your extravagant generosity to us.

Prayers

4

King of love, our final prayer never changes week by week because we will always know someone who is suffering, whether in body, mind or spirit, or because of the circumstances they find themselves in. Suffering in one form or another is all around us and so we silently bring those we know who are suffering to your glorious throne of grace where comfort and healing can be found.....

Give consolation to the anxious and desperate who live around our church, and especially to those whose names we have brought before you this morning.
